Slovenia: the beauty of valleys and mountains October 21, 2017 Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia is situated in the beautiful central European country. Its quite easy to reach from neighbouring countries, like Italy, Germany or Austria. Ljubljana is an ancient city, which has remained untouched by wars and has preserved much of its natural charm. Most visitors prefer to explore its narrow alleys and historical architecture, especially around the Congress Square and, the Upper Town. Further, it is easy to reach the nearby Ski Resorts like Mirna or Rovte. Many more travel websites offer travel information on this place, which is definitely worth a visit. An obvious attraction is the preserved castle, the first castle in the country, which was built by King Zvonimir of Croatia in 1062 and is situated at the highest point in Ljubljana, at 330 m. Slovenia is a country with different ethnic groups. About 90% of the population is of ethnic Slovene descent. They speak the Slovene language. The second largest ethnic group is the Croats (about 10% of the population). They speak the Croatian language. The third largest group is the Germans (about 1%). They speak the German language. Some 15% of the population is of Hungarian descent, speaking Hungarian. Travelling around Slovenia Sloven
