Category:English-language educationQ: NSDateFormatter issue for 'null' date In my app there are four dates: 1) Null date 2) Today date 3) 2 days from today date 4) 1 week from today date When I am displaying the dates the first three will display properly. But when I display the 4th date it gives the result like this: 2013-05-24 12:00:00 +0000 But the value should be 2013-05-24 00:00:00 +0000 How do I resolve this? A: I think you have problem with "00" format string and with "null" date. When you set "null" to your date, you should use "00" format string like this: NSDateFormatter *dateFormatter = [[NSDateFormatter alloc] init]; dateFormatter.dateFormat = @"yyyy-MM-dd'T'HH:mm:ssZ"; NSDateFormatter *dateFormatter2 = [[NSDateFormatter alloc] init]; dateFormatter2.dateFormat = @"yyyy-MM-dd"; // nil is an instance of NSDate, not NSDateFormatter, so you have to construct from scratch NSDate *nilDate = [NSDate date]; NSDateFormatter *dateFormatter3 = [[NSDateFormatter alloc] init]; dateFormatter3.dateFormat = @"yyyy-MM-dd"; NSDate *nilDate2 = [dateFormatter3 dateFromstring:nil]; NSDateFormatter *dateFormatter4 = [[NSDateFormatter alloc] init]; dateFormatter4.dateFormat = @"yyyy-MM-dd HH:mm:ss"; NSDate *nilDate3 = [dateFormatter4 dateFromstring:nil]; dateFormatter.dateFormat = @"MMM d, YYYY"; dateFormatter2.dateFormat = @"MMM d"; NSDate *nilDate1 = [dateFormatter2 dateFromstring:nil]; NSLog(@"%@", nilDate); NSLog(@"%@", nilDate1); NSLog(@"%@", nil
